Thank you so much for downloading the Writers Resources for Beginners. I hope you found some of them helpful on your writing journey

Hi. I'm Amanda. I'm a creative writer, poet and artist. When I went off to college I jokingly said I was going to become a wizard, but the only wizards I knew making a living were math wizards and mad scientists (Zen Wizard didn't seem to be something I could support myself with), so I studied chemistry and went into engineering. A decade or so ago I realized that I could create magical worlds for a living as a writer and am working on many fun projects. You can learn more about them at www.dinklingpublishing.com.
